CIA's Instant Daytime Dialer

Stop listening to countless voice mail greetings. Eliminate the need to repeat yourself over and over. Save time and reduce stress while increasing productivity by up to 66% with Client Instant Access' Instant Daytime Dialer (IDD) System!

What IDD Is:

CIA's IDD System is a web-based tool which allows you to quickly and continuously dial out to large numbers of clients, leaving pre-recorded messages whenever voice mail is reached OR connecting to a live person if the call is physically answered.

Why should you use CIA's Instant Daytime Dialer (IDD) System?

- Never again will you have to repeat the same voice mail message over and over during the day. Our system delivers a crisp, consistent and effective message each time with the same level of enthusiasm.
- Eliminate the stress of making outbound phone calls.
- · Make all of your calls in one-third the time

Play Message

Leave Message

Play Message — Gives you the ability to personalize your greeting for each client.

Leave Message — No need to wait for the tone when leaving your outbound message greeting.

The IDD system conveniently offers the ability to:

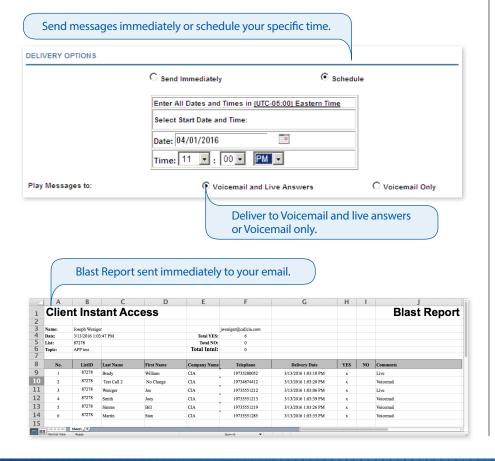

- Access the system from anywhere your home, the office or any alternate location.
- Dial each phone number with a single click of the mouse.
- Quickly drop messages to voice mail, until you reach a client 'live.'
- Eliminate verbally repeating the same message each time you reach a client's voice mail, saving 2 to 3 minutes per call.

CIA's Premium Blast Voice Mail with IDD

Expand your options and optimize your IDD experience with CIA's Premium Blast Voice Mail. Premium Blast Voice Mail sends voice messages to an entire client base almost simultaneously.

The perfect complement to IDD, Premium Blast Voice Mail will:

- Allow you to pre-record a voice message and send it to an entire client list without having to click on each number individually.
- Send the "blast" message either during the overnight hours of the recording date or at a later time and date you designate.
- · Ability to exclude contacts.
- Ensure blast messages are reviewed by Compliance before being sent.
- Ensure a 99% accurate delivery rate and the most updated client lists possible via personal, hands-on attention to every aspect of the message blast by CIA's Operations Department professionals.
- Include valuable, specific "Blast Reports" upon completion of every message blast to reveal success rates, to inform the user of required follow-up and to greatly reduce database management time.

Express Blast

Express Blast Voice Mail also complements the IDD system. It reduces costs via a less laborintensive platform. Users may send their voice messages either immediately or at a specific later time and date. Reporting identifies whether or not messages were received and provides general feedback regarding the reasons why messages were not delivered.
